

Commas

1. Used between words in a list:

I bought apples, cereal, shampoo and some chicken at the supermarket.

2. Used between main (will make sense on its own) and subordinate (will not make sense on its own) clauses

The man waited for the bus, knowing it would be late.

3. Used after an ISPACED sentence opener

Irritated, the man waited for the bus.

Feeling silly, the girls screamed at Robert Pattinson.
